OVERVIEW

The University of Arizona's Physical Space Inventory experienced an active year in 2018, highlighted by the completion of three construction projects. The new Bioscience Research Laboratories building added 97,216 NASF (172,623 GSF) of research laboratory and office space to the portfolio. The building comprises of five floors with facilities that support interdisciplinary and health sciences research. The completion of the South Stadium Parking Structure (146,940 NASF / 317,594 GSF) provided 915 new parking spaces in an area of campus that was high in need. The construction project involved the redesign of the 6th St. & Warren Ave. intersection, improving traffic flow throughout the area and increasing efficiency and safety. With the help of a generous gift by one of its most famous alumni, the Terry Francona Hitting Facility (9,196 NASF / 9,458 GSF) was completed in 2018 and provides the Arizona Baseball program with a state of the art, indoor hitting facility. The facility is located at Hi Corbett Field, home of Arizona Baseball.

The Corleone Center, Corleone Apartments, and Drachman Apartments were demolished in 2018. The area will now be part of a new Honors College Village, a Public-Private Partnership project that is scheduled to be completed in 2019. Other significant changes to the Physical Space Inventory include the release of 13 leased buildings to Banner-University Medical Center. Hillenbrand Memorial Stadium, home of Arizona Softball, was demolished after the conclusion of the softball season. The stadium will be rebuilt, with plans to be ready to host Arizona Softball's first home game of the 2019 season.
